Check out this website- <http://interdependencedaynepa.org/hexagon.html>

Respond creatively to the many themes of global interdependence-real-world issues-and become a part of an international movement to create a more civil, peace-minded and just world. This project is a meaningful vehicle for allowing young people to think and respond about issues of personal and global importance.

Lesson-Create an Exploding Hexagon Box using Photoshop and a simple three layer grid template. The theme for this assignment is the Hexagon Project as described above. You are to design a box incorporating three distinct layers, each with a different theme.

Layer 1-All about me! You can include images of you, your friends, your hobbies, family, etc.

Layer 2-Issues you are concerned about, worldwide or local.

Layer 3-What can I do to make a change-Images that represent what you can do to make a change for the better.

Collect photos or images from home that you would like to incorporate in this project and bring them in after the Easter break.
